Declaring God's Way - Sharing His Love

As we find ourselves in uncharted waters, the church continues to follow Government and Baptist Union guidelines, and remains closed for services, meetings, and activities for the foreseeable future.

We have been using emails, Facebook, and the website to keep in touch with individuals. This will continue, but we are now going one step further and folk will be able to join services, prayer meetings, etc on-line.

On-line streaming offers much, but is not accessible by everyone. Even though we cannot meet together at the moment we are no less a church, and even in our scattered form we need to keep in touch with each other. Social distancing and self-isolation may leave folk in difficulty, or lonely. We need to be salt and light in our community by offering help and encouragement: a simple phone call may mean an awful lot.

The church will continue to offer pastoral care within the BU guidelines. If you are in need, please contact the pastoral lead in your homegroup in the first instance, or reach the pastoral team via the contacts below, or via this website.

Thank you for your patience and co-operation.

Look after yourselves, and take care of each other.
